THE

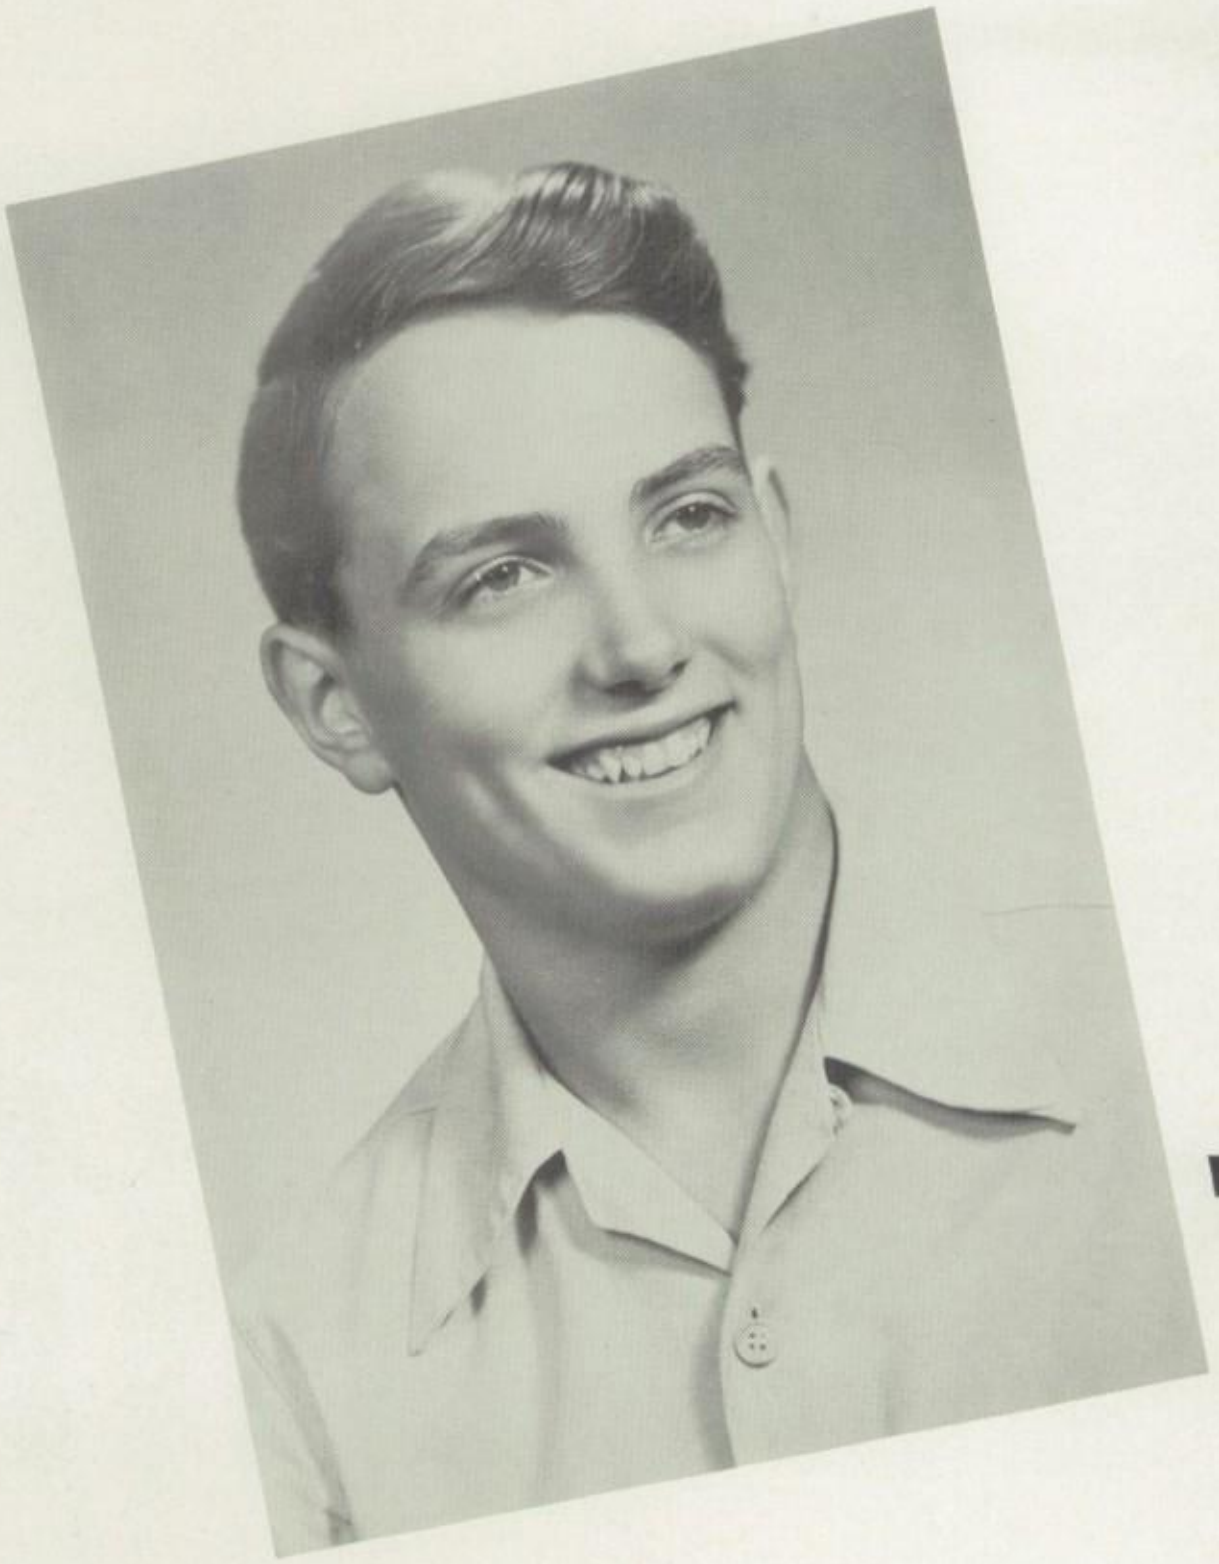
SIGNAL

1952

AT the beginning of this school year Cynthia and Sylvester came into being as a theme for the gossip columns that have appeared in the school newspaper. Sylvester is the little scamp of a mouse who picks up local news in his tours of the school. Cynthia, a "Cole" black cat, roams the seventh and eighth grade classrooms looking for juicy tidbits and chasing Sylvester.

They have been invited to show you through the 1952 Signal. We hope you are pleasantly amused with their antics as they present the classes and their activities.

Dedication



DONALD JOHN STRACK

IT is only fitting that this year's annual be dedicated to the memory of a beloved classmate and a friend to all in this school. Don always had a cheerful smile and a pleasant word for everyone. Not only was he an outstanding student, but also a willing participant in many extra-curricular activities.

NORWALK HIGH

LOOKING down into the heart of the city of Norwalk, the eye of the keen observer will follow the line of the main street through the business district to the buildings of Norwalk High School.

There, under the direction of the five members of the board of education and the supervision of the superintendent and the principal, a program of liberal education is carried on.

Twenty-eight faculty members, each qualified in his own field, conduct the day-by-day classes that provide that background of knowledge so necessary to make good citizens for the community.

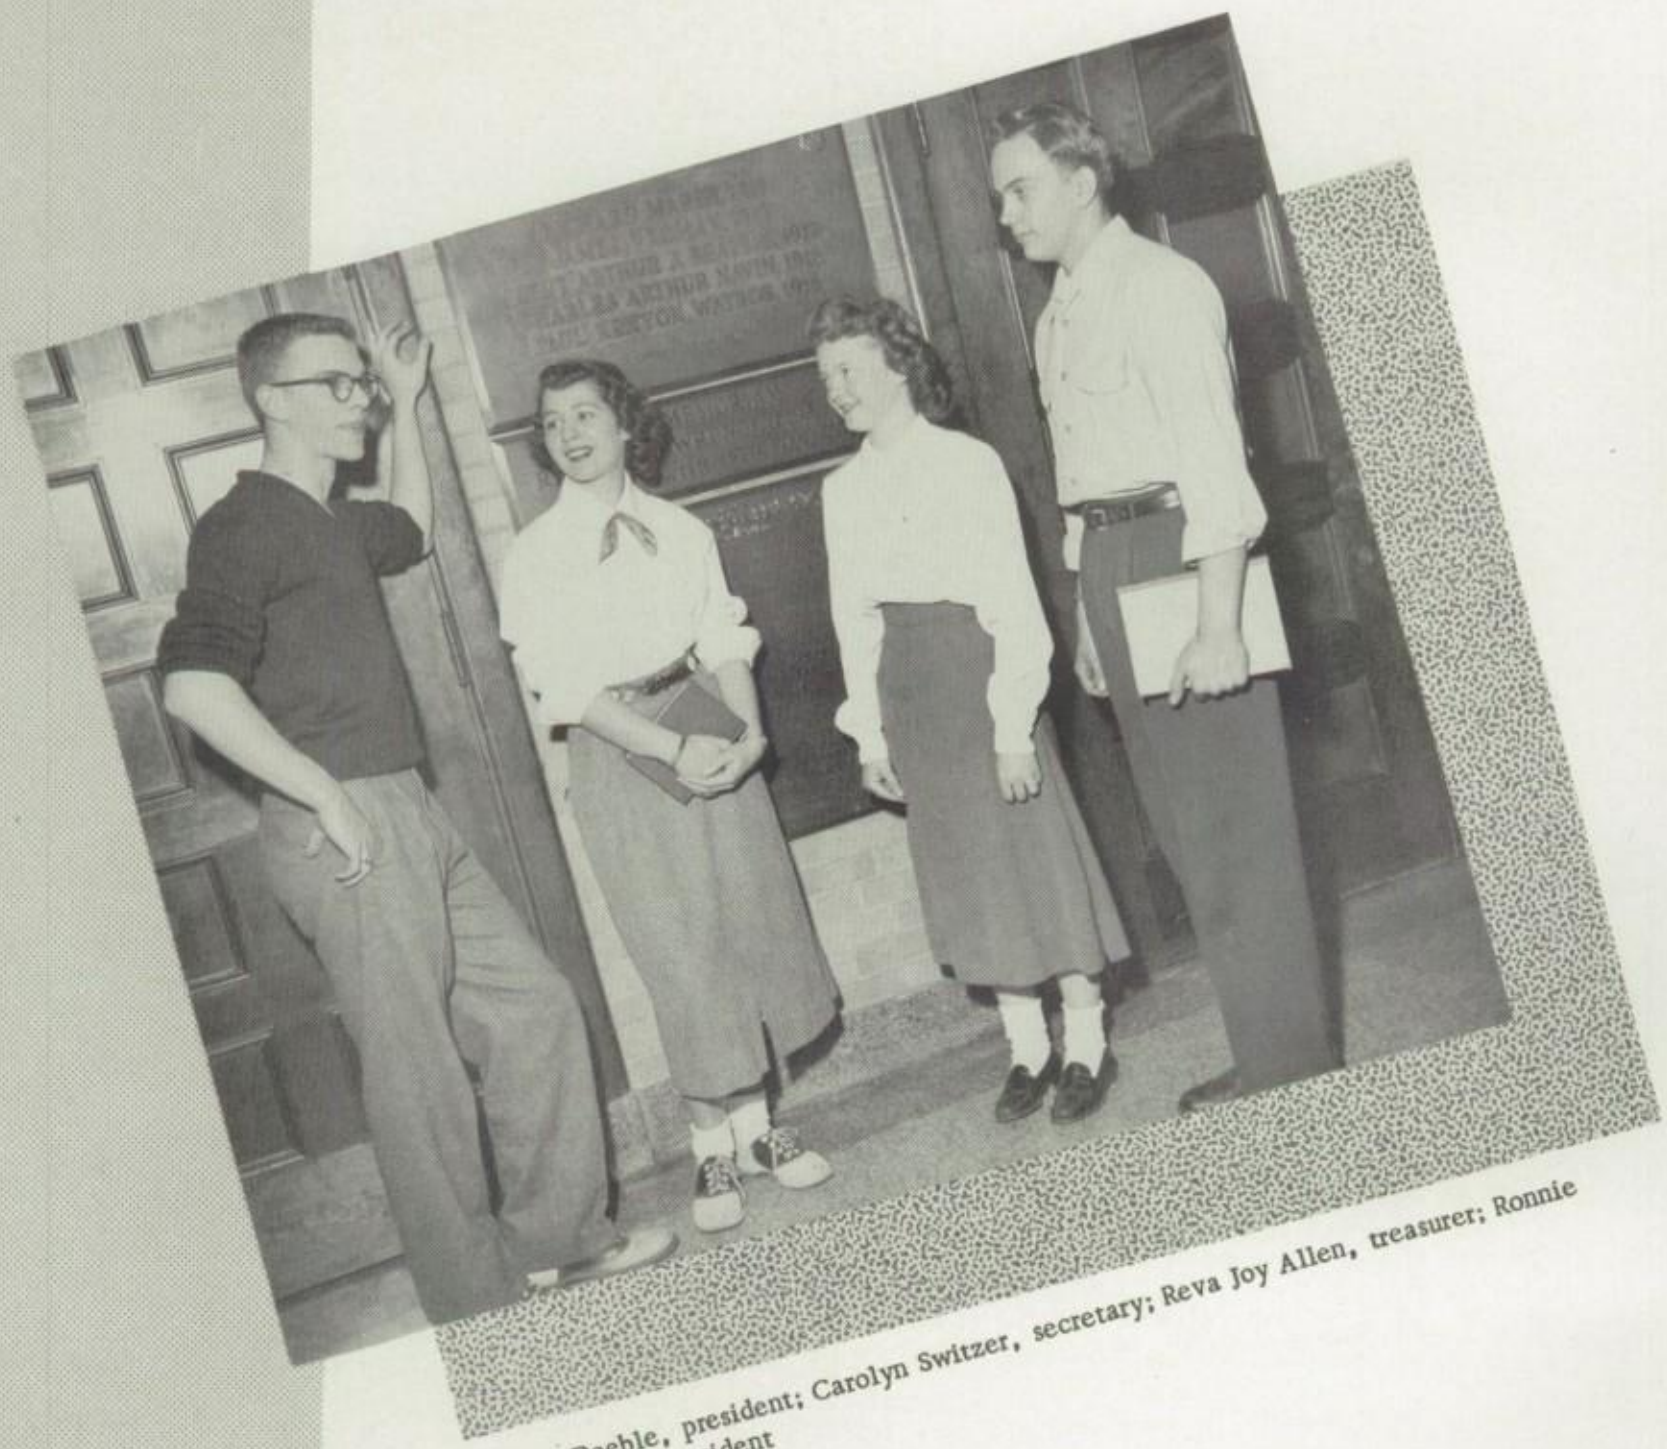
Senior Officers

Class Of 1952



Russel Deeble, president; Carolyn Switzer, secretary; Reva Joy Allen, treasurer; Ronnie Strack, vice president

TOP honors among classes naturally go to the seniors, who, having played the last game, participated in the final concert, and taken the last examination of their high school careers, are now ready to move on to larger roles in the affairs of community, nation, and world.

As a class they were prominent in the school's activities and made an excellent showing for themselves.

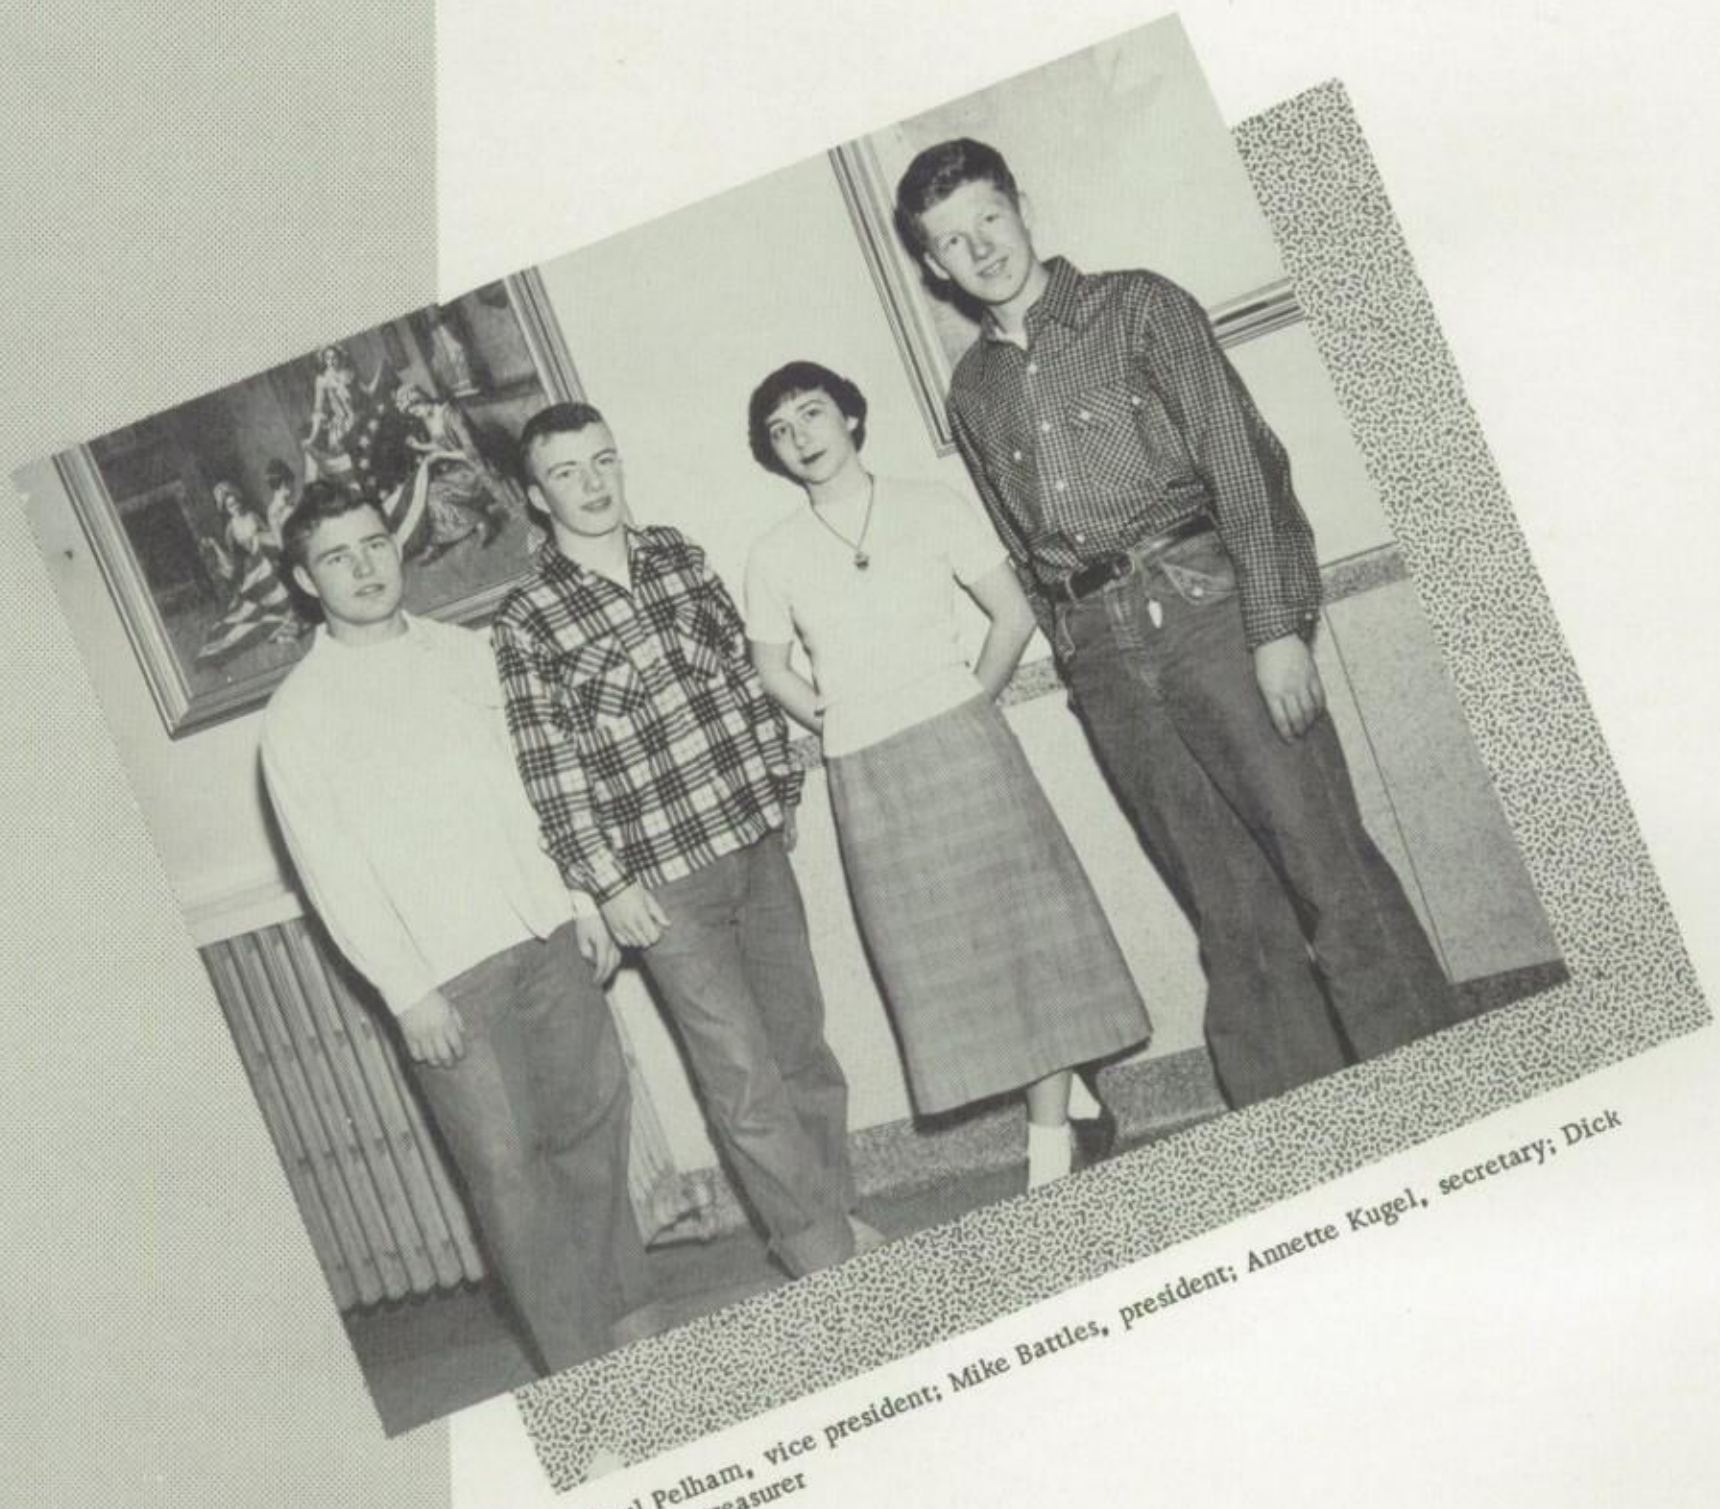
Junior Officers

Class Of 1953



Paul Pelham, vice president; Mike Battles, president; Annette Kugel, secretary; Dick Rogers, treasurer

THE junior class likes to boast of their fervent support of and active participation in all the school's activities. As a class and as individuals they have been prominent throughout the year in sports, musical organizations, and the social life of Norwalk High.

They now stand ready to move on into those places vacated by the graduating seniors, where they may become even more enthusiastic participants.

Sophomore Officers

Class Of 1954

Bill Twitchell, president; Gretchen Hill, secretary; Ben Duffy, treasurer; Al Pavka, vice president

HAVING become full-fledged members of the high school during this year, the members of the sophomore class have found their places among the upperclassmen in most of the school activities. They have honorably supported the athletic programs, the musical functions, and been active members of the various clubs.

Theirs is a spirit of willingness that, it is hoped, will grow and increase during the years to come.
